HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

BOSTON

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

All candidates must present evidence satisfactory to the Committee on Admission not simply that they have passed the courses necessary to fulfil the requirements, but also that their scholarship and their general qualifications for medicine are such as to give promise of work of high quality in the medical course.

On the above basis this School considers, for admission to its classes, graduates in arts or in science of approved colleges or scientific schools.

In exceptional cases applicants without a degree who have completed two or more years of work in a college or scientific school of high rank, provided they present certificates that they have scholastic standing placing them in the first third of their class, may be admitted.

Credentials from foreign universities, in most cases, must be supplemented by a year or more of work in an American university. Admission cannot be assured, as all classes are limited.

LANGUAGE AND SCIENCE REQUIREMENTS*

(a) All applicants must present evidence that they have such knowledge of English as is ordinarily required of all candidates for a degree in an approved college and that they have a reading knowledge of French or of German.

(b) They must present evidence that they have college credits for at least a year's work in general inorganic chemistry, in physics, in biology, and in organic chemistry.

To meet the science requirements satisfactorily, time credit in college should be secured as follows:

Inorganic Chemistry: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least four should be laboratory work.

Organic Chemistry: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least four should be laboratory work.

* It is assumed that before admission to an acceptable college a four years' course in High School or its equivalent will have been completed.

Physics: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least two should be laboratory work.

Biology: A minimum of eight semester hours (including not less than four hours of zoölogy), of which at least four should be laboratory work.

NOTE. — A semester hour is one hour of lecture or recitation, or two hours of laboratory work, per week for one half-year or sixteen weeks. Full courses at Harvard count as eight semester hours.

(c) They must have taken the Aptitude Test of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

These requirements must be satisfied in full before matriculation.

Applications for the first year class should be filed as early as November and be completed not later than March 1, on blanks furnished by the Assistant Dean. The Committee makes a selection in February and in March, accepting one hundred and twenty-five men from about eight hundred applicants.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

By increasing the third year class to one hundred and thirty-five men, ten places are available for transfers from other medical schools. There may be a few additional vacancies caused by the withdrawal of men from the first and second year classes. In exceptional cases men may be admitted to the second and fourth year classes. They must be vouched for as promising men by the Dean or by some other responsible officer of the School from which they come and must furnish a certificate showing time spent in medical study at least equal to that spent by the class to which they seek admission.

Only men of high scholastic standing will be considered. Full credit for work done elsewhere will be allowed as a rule but in certain cases additional work, especially in clinical pathology and in physical diagnosis, will be required.

Applications may be obtained at the Dean's office after November 1 and must be completed before February 1.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

First year students will register in the amphitheatre in Building C, on the Friday preceding the last Wednesday in September, at 10 A.M.

On entrance, each student will be interviewed by a member of the teaching staff and then assigned to an adviser. The relation between students and advisers is outside regular school duties.

A brief thesis is required of all matriculants as part of their necessary work. The thesis must be handed in to the Dean's Office not later than

May 15 of the student's third year. The Assistant Dean may be consulted in regard to a suitable thesis subject.

In order that the time of study shall count as a full year, students of all upper classes must register on Monday, the first day of the session:

Second Year	9.15 A.M.
Third Year	10.15 A.M.
Fourth Year	11.15 A.M.

For special and approved purposes students may be allowed to take a portion of their work elsewhere than at the Harvard Medical School, provided the application be approved by the Dean in consultation with the Administrative Board and the head of the department concerned, and provided the student passes an examination on this work after its completion, conducted by a member of the Faculty of the Harvard Medical School.

EXAMINATIONS AND PROMOTION

Students are divided into four classes and promotion from one class to another is dependent upon the satisfactory completion of the work of each year. The Faculty reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student at any time when, in the opinion of his instructors, it is manifest that he is incompetent, or for any reason is unfit to continue his course.

Each student will receive a rating in each course based upon examinations or other tests as determined by each department. These marks shall be on the scale of A, B, C, D, and E (E denoting failure).

No student is allowed to anticipate the examinations in the regular course of studies of his year except by special permission of the Administrative Board.

A Promotion Board for each of the first three years, consisting of members of each department giving the principal courses during that year, will meet in February (if occasion arises), to act upon cases presented as a result of the work of the first half-year and will meet in June for the work of the entire year. The Boards will determine and send to the Dean's Office, before the final Faculty meeting in June, a mark for each student for the corresponding school year.

It is the duty of a Promotion Board, after receiving marks from the departments concerned, to promote those qualified, to warn or condition any student as occasion demands, to interview and examine any student as to whom it is in doubt, and to recommend to the Faculty that unpromising students be requested to withdraw.

The actions of the Promotion Boards are final, subject only to the standing rules of the Faculty and to confirmation by that body. Students shall not ask for reconsideration from any member of the Promotion Boards. Such requests may be made only in case there is a change in the information upon which the action was taken, and must be made in writing to the Assistant Dean before July 15.

Faculty Rules:

1. A student who fails two major subjects in one year shall withdraw from the School.

2. Passing in the majority of subjects with a D grade is not sufficient grounds for promotion. Any student who has failed to be promoted under this rule, and who wishes to repeat the previous year, must apply to the Committee on Admission for permission to do so.

3. The Promotion Boards at their discretion may promote a student who has failed in one major subject in a year, but such a student shall not be promoted a second time nor be allowed to take the General Examination until that failure is removed.

4. A student failing any course shall have an opportunity for reëxamination only in September or with a succeeding class or section. This rule shall not prevent a special examination, after a lapse of two months, for students who have been required to withdraw by the Promotion Boards.

5. No course marks may be given out except by the Dean or Assistant Dean.

6. The Committee on Examinations shall not admit a student to the General Examination unless he has passed at least seven-eighths of his fourth year courses, including medicine and surgery, and fulfilled all of the other requirements of the Faculty.

7. A student who has failed three times in a General Examination shall be debarred from further attempts.

General Examination:

The Committee on Examinations will give a General Examination to each candidate for the degree of M.D., will give him a final mark, and will recommend to the Faculty those properly qualified for the degree and for honors. The Examination will include written, oral or practical tests, at the discretion of the Committee. It will be held in June and, provided there are qualified applicants, in February and may be held at other times if the Committee so decides.

The conditions under which a student may be allowed to take his General Examination, and the character and conduct of the Examination, will be determined by the Committee, subject only to rules 6 and 7 of the Faculty.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE SCHOOL

A student may withdraw from the School, upon application to the Assistant Dean. Application for reinstatement must be made at least four months prior to the date of readmission. If reinstatement is delayed more than a year, application must be made in competition with other candidates for admission. The return of fees and bond cancels registration.

DEGREES

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Medicine at this University must be at least twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character. He must have fulfilled all the requirements for admission to this Medical School; give evidence of having studied in a recognized medical school at least four full years, of which one year must be spent in the regular fourth year course of this School; have passed all the required examinations; have dissected the three parts of the body to the satisfaction of the demonstrator; have taken charge of and reported on twelve cases in Obstetrics under supervision and instruction; and furnish evidence of having engaged in the practical exercises in Medicine and Surgery.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine cum laude or magna cum laude may be given to students of highest rating in the class, on recommendation of the Committee on Examinations.

Every candidate for the degree of M.D. must make application for it in writing on blanks furnished at the Dean's office, on or before May 1 of the year in which he proposes to graduate.

HIGHER DEGREES IN THE MEDICAL SCIENCES

The degrees Master of Arts, Doctor of Philosophy, and Doctor of Medical Sciences have been established for advanced work in some special field in the Medical Sciences. The first two degrees are voted by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences upon the recommendation of a Committee consisting of members of the Faculties of Medicine and of Arts and Sciences. The degree of Doctor of Medical Sciences is administered by the above Committee, excepting the members from Harvard College, and the degree is voted by the Medical Faculty. All candidates for these degrees must hold a degree in Arts or in Sciences from an approved college. These degrees are not awarded for mere reason of faithful study for a prescribed time, but primarily for high attainment in a selected science.

MASTER OF ARTS AND DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must register in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and pursue an approved course of study in medical science for at least one year.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy must fulfil certain preliminary requirements described in the general University Catalogue, must devote to approved advanced studies not less than two years — at least one of which must be spent in residence at this University — and must pass general examinations and present an account of original work in an accepted thesis, before being granted the degree.

The fee is $400 for each year.

DOCTOR OF MEDICAL SCIENCES

Candidates for this degree must matriculate as medical students and complete with an honor grade the regular elementary courses offered by this School in Anatomy, Histology and Embryology, Physiology, Biological Chemistry, Bacteriology, Pathology, Pharmacology and Clinical Pathology, together with such other subjects as may be recommended by the Committee. In addition all candidates are required to have a reading knowledge of French and German. Ordinarily this preparatory training will be equivalent to the first two years of the course of study leading to the degree of M.D. Students who have completed all or a portion of this work in other approved medical schools may be admitted to candidacy upon presenting evidence that they have passed the above subjects or their equivalents with an honor grade, and upon passing the general examination described below.

Following the completion of this preliminary training the student shall devote himself for not less than two years to the intensive study of one of the fundamental medical sciences and to the preparation of a thesis. The thesis must show an original treatment of a fitting subject and give evidence of independent research.

There shall be two examinations for every candidate for this degree: a general examination, before entering upon the work of the last two years, covering the elementary medical sciences listed above; and a final examination, upon acceptance of the thesis, covering the particular medical science chosen as a special field.

The fees for the first two years are the same as for medical students.

Further information concerning the higher degrees may be secured from Dr. HALLOWELL DAVIS, Secretary of the Division of Medical Sciences, Harvard Medical School.

FEES AND EXPENSES

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

It is recommended, unless a student sees reasonably clearly how he will meet the expenses of at least the first year in the School, that he postpone his entrance until he can save money enough to get started without having ahead of him oppressive financial worry. Only a limited amount of outside work can be done without being a tax on the student's health and scholarship.

An estimate of total yearly expenses shows that the average cost of the school year is $1,275 for the last three years, and $1,400 for the first year when, in addition to other expenses, a microscope must be bought. This estimate includes tuition, board and room, books, laboratory fee, laundry and incidentals.

Matriculants are required to own their microscopes and hemocytometers. These must be of a type acceptable to the Medical School. Their cost will be about $130. In exceptional cases, upon application to the Dean's Office before September 1, a matriculant may be permitted to rent a microscope.

The fees are:—For matriculation, $5; for instruction (including laboratory charges except breakage, damage and loss of apparatus), $400 for each year.

The term-bills for the academic year 1933-34 will be issued and payable as follows:

DORMITORY

Vanderbilt Hall, the Medical School dormitory, has accommodations for 335 students. The price of rooms ranges from $125 to $370 for the academic year of thirty-nine weeks. Applications for rooms in the dormitory should be sent to the Dean of the Medical School before May 15. Students permitted to reëngage their rooms must file at the Bursar's Office new room agreements on or before April 1, 1934. The dormitory has squash courts and a gymnasium, which are open to members of the teaching staff and students of the Medical School. In addition the School owns four tennis courts.

The dormitory contains a large dining hall which is available for all members of the Medical School. Meals are served at reasonable prices.

BOND REQUIRED OF STUDENTS

Under the auspices of the Department of Medicine a physical examination will be given each student during the academic year 1933-34.

Evidence of having been satisfactorily vaccinated is required for entrance to Harvard University.

BUILDINGS

The course in Medicine, established by Harvard University in 1782, was given in buildings of the College, University Hall and Holden Chapel, from its establishment until 1810, when the classes were transferred to Boston. In 1816 the first Medical School building was erected. From 1882 until 1906 the School occupied the building at the corner of Boylston and Exeter Streets, now used by Boston University.

In 1906 the University completed a notable group of white marble buildings on Longwood Avenue for the Medical School. These buildings are five in number and with their surrounding grounds occupy eleven acres of land in the outskirts of Boston. One of these is designed for administration and four for housing the laboratory departments, and for laboratory and clinical instruction.

The Administration Building, with over 40,000 square feet of floor space, contains the Faculty Room, the Dean's offices, the joint library of the Medical School and the School of Public Health, and the Warren Museum.

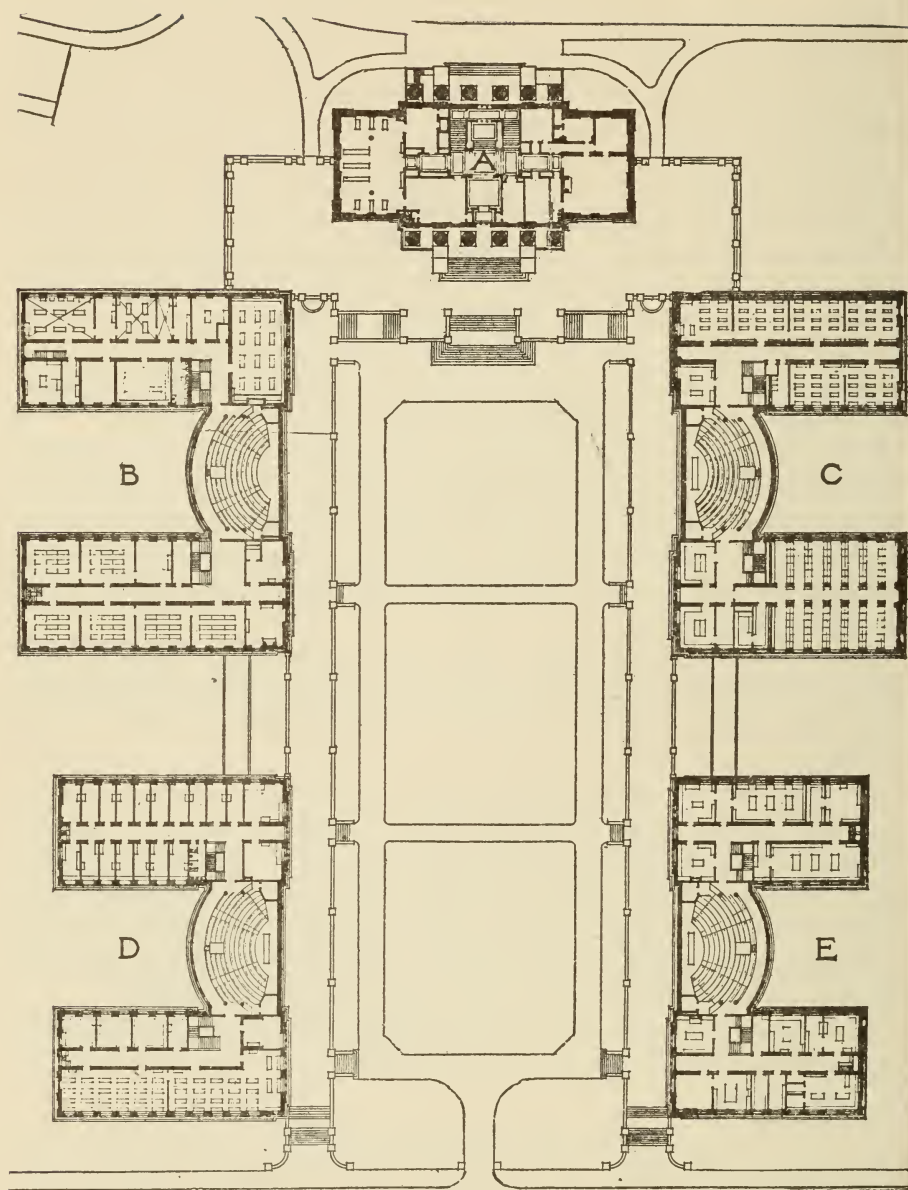

The laboratory buildings, designated by the letters B, C, D, and E, are all constructed on the same general plan. Each consists of two parallel wings united at the front by an amphitheatre with a seating capacity of two hundred and fifty. Both the smaller rooms and the laboratories are designed on a unit system which greatly simplifies the changes required in making these suited to the needs of departments whose methods of teaching have changed since the rooms were originally designed.

The amount of floor space varies considerably in each of the four buildings, but the design is such that this variation is not apparent from the main quadrangle.

Building B accommodates the department of Anatomy, Histology, and Embryology. The wings each have three floors and a total floor space of over 52,000 square feet.

Building C provides space for the departments of Physiology, Physical Chemistry, Biochemistry, and Experimental Surgery. In this building each wing has four floors and a total floor space of 62,000 square feet.

Building D is occupied by the departments of Bacteriology, Pathology, and Tropical Medicine. In this building there are five floors in one wing and three floors in the other, with a total floor space of over 48,000 square feet. The Animal House is between buildings B and D.

Building E houses Pharmacology, Preventive Medicine, and Comparative Pathology. There are three floors in one wing and four floors in the other, with a floor space of 35,000 square feet.

The outline plan of the buildings and their position is shown on p. 22.

The clinical departments are housed in the various hospitals associated with the School. Vanderbilt Hall, the dormitory for medical students, is immediately adjacent to the Medical School buildings.

LIBRARIES

The joint library of the Medical School and the School of Public Health is on the second floor of the Administration Building, and in the other buildings are branch libraries. By an arrangement with the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, library facilities for the hospital are available. This library is open from 9 A.M. until 10 P.M., on Saturdays from 9 A.M. until 5 P.M. and on Sundays from 2 P.M. to 6 P.M. During the summer vacation, the Library is open on week-days from 9 A.M. until 10 P.M., on Saturdays from 9 A.M. until 12 M., and on Sundays is closed throughout the day. The present number of volumes in the library is 59,482, and in addition there are 160,148 pamphlets and 660 current periodicals kept on file.

The College Library at Cambridge is open to the students of this School.

The Boston Public Library is open to students who are residents of Boston. Students, not residents of Boston, who have filed a bond at the Bursar's office, may also use this library. The Bursar will furnish on application the necessary certificate of bond.

The Boston Medical Library, No. 8 The Fenway, contains about 163,282 bound volumes and 109,816 pamphlets, and approximately 879 current periodicals are on file. This very valuable library is open to those who desire to consult medical literature, on week days from 9.30 A.M. to 6 P.M., and on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday to 10 P.M.

LECTURESHIPS

The Cutter Lectures on Preventive Medicine were established in 1912 under the deed of gift contained in the will of Dr. John Clarence Cutter. These lectures are given annually and are open to the medical profession.

The Edward K. Dunham Lectures for the promotion of the medical sciences have been given annually since 1923 by eminent investigators and teachers in one of the branches of the medical sciences or of the basic sciences which contribute toward the advance of medical science in the broadest sense. The lectures are open to the Faculty and students of the Harvard Medical School and College and all other interested professional persons. The lectures are given under the fund established for that purpose by Mary Dows Dunham in memory of her husband, Dr. Edward K. Dunham.

The George W. Gay Lectures upon Medical Ethics are given annually at the Harvard Medical School. The fund for the establishment of these lectures was given in 1917 by Dr. George W. Gay.

WARREN ANATOMICAL MUSEUM

The Warren Anatomical Museum was founded in 1847 by JOHN COLLINS WARREN, of the College Class of 1797, Adjunct Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1809 to 1815, Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1815 to 1847, Professor Emeritus from 1847 to his death in 1856, son of JOHN WARREN, the first Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. This important Museum is open to students in the School, and its collections are used in demonstration of the lectures. It occupies the upper three floors of the Administration Building. Myrtelle M. Canavan, M.D., is Curator.

The collection has over twenty thousand specimens, illustrating both normal and pathological anatomy. Students and graduates may have access to these specimens at any time upon application to the Curator.

Besides dissections and serial sections of bones, the anatomical collection includes many injections, corrosion preparations, models and groups of bones, notably the Dwight collection of spines, hands and feet, Tello collection of skulls, etc.

The pathological collection of "hand" specimens, conveniently housed in 40-gallon tanks, is for the use of students, and mounted specimens illustrate the major diseases.

There is a collection of medico-legal material which has a section to itself and forms a basis for teaching.

The American Ambulance of Paris has contributed a number of specimens from the European War, especially interesting for a student of military surgery.

HOSPITAL FACILITIES

The transfer in 1810 of the Medical School of Harvard University from Cambridge to Boston was made in order to secure the advantages of the larger clinical facilities which are to be found in large cities. Clinical advantages from the students' viewpoint are not a matter of large hospitals only, but rather are related to the number of patients in these hospitals who are under the care of instructors on the staff of the Medical School and available for teaching purposes. This School is closely affiliated on the above basis with the hospitals described in the following list, thus offering Harvard Medical School students an unrivaled opportunity to secure a well-organized clinical experience and knowledge of disease. Each student comes into intimate contact, under supervision, with patients in these hospitals, beginning in the second half of the second year and increasing until the fourth year, when the students serve as clinical clerks and give their whole time to the study of patients.

The Massachusetts General Hospital. — This is a general hospital associated with the Medical School since its foundation in 1821. There are services in Medicine, Surgery, Pediatrics, Dermatology, Genito-Urinary Diseases, Orthopaedics, Neurology, and Syphilis, all of which are used in giving instruction in these special departments of medicine. The hospital has 714 beds, 413 of them being available for teaching purposes. In the General Hospital 7,845 patients were admitted last year and there were 136,189 patients' days treatment. Large out-patient departments are also used for instruction in the above clinical subjects. 44,487 new patients were admitted to the out-patient department last year for a total of 310,334 visits. 13,682 patients were treated in the Emergency Ward. Laboratories in Pathology, Chemistry, Metabolism, Medical and Surgical Research, and X-ray are maintained, and there is an excellent medical library, all of which are open to students in the Medical School.

The Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. — There are 231 beds in this hospital, 189 of which are used for instruction in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. In 1932, 7,596 patients were treated in the wards, and there were 52,349 patients' days treatment. Last year there were 99,646 out-patient visits. Pathological and X-ray laboratories are maintained.

The Boston City Hospital. — This hospital which, in all its divisions, contains 2,535 beds (including 454 bassinets and cribs) 1,578 of which are in the main hospital and all of which are available for teaching purposes, serves as one of the teaching units for the Medical School. The 2d and 4th Medical services, the 5th Surgical, the Neurological and Pathological services are under the direction of Professors at the Harvard Medical School. In addition there are divisions of Gynaecology, etc., open to medical students. In the out-patient department (main hospital and two Relief Stations), 182,770 new patients applied for diagnosis and treatment during the year 1932. They furnish additional teaching material. Clinical laboratories are maintained for research in pathology, nephritis, diabetes, basal metabolism, blood, immunology and neurology. The Thorndike Laboratory is the medical research department. A department for surgical research was opened in 1930. There is a neurosurgical service. The X-ray service is very large and important. Instruction to medical students is given here daily. There is an excellent library, including 83 current medical journals.

Hospital Department — Sanatorium Division. — The Boston Sanatorium for tuberculous patients at Mattapan is a department of the Boston City Hospital. It has a capacity of 616 beds and a daily average of 574 patients. New buildings, affording increased bed capacity, have been erected. During eight months of the year two to six fourth year students of Harvard Medical School spend eight hours daily for one week in this hospital under the supervision of the Resident Physician.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. — This hospital has been closely associated with the Medical School since its dedication in 1913. It is for general medical and surgical cases, and is situated on grounds adjacent to the Medical School buildings. There are 246 beds, all of which are used for teaching purposes. There is also maintained an out-patient service for ambulatory medical and surgical patients to which 8,173 new patients applied during the past year. The total number of visits was 78,786. There are well-equipped medical, surgical, and pathological laboratories. The hospital, by special arrangement, makes use of the library of the Medical School.

The Beth Israel Hospital. — This is a general hospital with a capacity of 200 beds (including 21 pediatric beds), 120 of which are available for teaching. The institution is located on Brookline Avenue around the corner from the Harvard Medical School. The Hospital is equipped for teaching and research, having a medical research and pathological laboratory, each under the direction of a full-time physician who is associated with the Faculty of the Harvard Medical School. There are also electrocardiograph and basal-metabolism laboratories, animal research equipment, and an extensive X-ray department. 4,640 patients were admitted to the hospital last year and spent 49,254 patients' days in the institution. There were 5,553 new patients admitted to the out-patient department during the year and a total of 62,158 visits made.

The Children's Hospital. — The buildings of this hospital are on Longwood Avenue, adjacent to the Medical School. This hospital maintains a medical clinic, with its associated neurological, contagious, and child welfare divisions, a surgical, an orthopaedic, and a nose and throat clinic. There are 281 beds, of which 228 are available for teaching purposes. During the year there were 4,735 cases treated in the wards, and 67,466 visits were made to the out-patient department. Well-equipped laboratories are provided for the study of material from the wards and out-patient service.

The Infants' Hospital (Thomas Morgan Rotch Jr. Memorial Hospital for Infants). — This hospital is adjacent to and under the management of the Children's Hospital. There are 50 beds, all of which are devoted to the care of infants. 891 were treated during the year. All of the cases in this hospital are available for teaching.

The Boston Lying-in Hospital. — This hospital occupies a building completed in 1923 at 221 Longwood Avenue. Of the 129 beds, 112 are used for teaching. During the past year 2,532 patients received treatment in the hospital, of whom 2,100 were delivered. In addition, in the out-patient department, 1,188 cases were attended under supervision by third and fourth year students. Chemical, pathological, and bacteriological laboratories and a well-equipped X-ray department are available for research.

The Free Hospital for Women. — This hospital is devoted exclusively to the surgical treatment of diseases peculiar to women. The hospital has a capacity of 97 beds, of which 65 are available for teaching. In the out-patient department there are about 12,000 consultations yearly. Library and laboratory facilities are available.

Boston Psychopathic Hospital. — This is a state institution for acute, curable, incipient, and doubtful cases of mental disease. The hospital was opened to patients in June, 1912. It has 105 beds, all of which are available for teaching, and receives patients at the rate of about 1,800 a year. The hospital is equipped with psychological, neuropathological and biochemical laboratories. The out-patient department receives patients at the rate of over 1,000 a year. In addition to the psychoses and neuroses, the clinical material includes cases of mental defect and disorder in childhood, cases of mental instability, and of delinquency.

The Collis P. Huntington Memorial Hospital and the J. Collins Warren Laboratory of Bio-Physics. — This hospital and laboratory of the Cancer Commission of Harvard University afford opportunity for the study of human tumor cases. The aim of the hospital is to study special problems concerning the natural history and the treatment of tumors. It affords a means for early diagnosis, treatment, or advice regarding therapeutic measures. There are 22 beds, all of which are available for teaching purposes; out-patients are received at stated hours. During the past year, 1,617 new patients were treated in the house and out-patient department.

The hospital has a research department for the study of rheumatic fever and heart disease. All beds are available for teaching.

New England Deaconess Hospital. — Has 265 beds. A new 50 bed diabetic building is under construction and will be ready for occupancy this Fall. The Palmer Memorial Unit is devoted to cancer and chronic disease. An out-patient and a social service department have been added this year, with a floor of low-priced beds and a minimum out-patient fee. The Palmer has two grams of radium and a large emanation plant. The hospital has an efficient chemical and pathological laboratory, and one full floor of the new building will be devoted to a research laboratory.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

About eighty appointments as internes and assistants are made annually to hospitals in and about Boston for terms of service varying from six months to two years. These appointments are made after a competitive examination.

THE CANCER COMMISSION OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY

The Cancer Commission of Harvard University was founded in 1899, by the late Mrs. Caroline Brewer Croft, who left in her will a sum of money for the investigation of the cause and treatment of cancer. Since that time other sums have been contributed for cancer research, and the Cancer Commission of Harvard University was organized in 1909. Its work is carried on chiefly at the Huntington Hospital and its laboratories. President Conant is Chairman of the Commission.

PROCTOR FUND

A bequest of fifty thousand dollars by Ellen Osborne Proctor, for the purpose of promoting the study of chronic diseases, subsequently has been increased by an additional fifty thousand dollars from another member of the Proctor family. The income of this fund is to be devoted to investigations into the nature and treatment of chronic diseases and the care of persons afflicted with these diseases while in hospitals for such investigations. The special disposition of the income of this fund is under the control of a committee composed of the professors of Theory and Practice of Physic, Clinical Medicine, and Pathology. Henry A. Christian, M.D., is Chairman of the Proctor Fund Committee.

WILLIAM W. WELLINGTON FUND

In 1925 a bequest was received from William H. Wellington to establish the "William W. Wellington Memorial Research Fund." The income of this fund is to be applied for research concerning the etiology and therapeutics of the diseases of man, and is to be administered by a Committee composed of the heads of the departments of Pathology, Medicine, and Pharmacology. S. Burt Wolbach, M.D., is the Chairman.

COURSES FOR GRADUATES

The object of this division of the Medical School is to offer to graduates in Medicine opportunities to continue their studies in a thorough and scientific manner.

While all courses are intended primarily for those who hold degrees from recognized medical schools, certain courses in the scientific subjects are adapted to the needs of advanced students and teachers of science. Such persons may be admitted to courses on the approval of the Administrative Board.

Undergraduate students of medicine may be admitted to such courses as they are qualified to take. Special consideration for the needs of such students will be given in the plans for summer courses.

Laboratory facilities at the Harvard Medical School and the abundant clinical opportunities in the various hospitals are available for graduate instruction. Frank R. Ober, M.D., Assistant Dean, is in charge.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

This School was opened in 1922, thus bringing together, under one Faculty, courses in Public Health, some of which were previously offered by other departments of the University and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Its object is to provide the scientific groundwork which underlies efficient health administration.

Courses in Bacteriology, Parasitology, Epidemiology, Communicable Diseases, Tropical Medicine, Public Health Administration, Physiology, Nutrition, Ventilation and Illumination, Vital Statistics, Sanitary Engineering, Child Health, Mental Hygiene, Industrial Hygiene, are offered, which aim to train the student to become an intelligent Public Health official. Opportunity is also given to students wishing to pursue research in Public Health. Any course may be taken singly, or a student may devote a considerable period of time to one subject. For further information, apply to the Secretary.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF COURSES

The "Announcement of Courses" comprises a statement by each Department as to its general plan of instruction and its various required exercises, followed by a résumé of the Fourth Year Elective Courses and the Voluntary Courses.

Each student in the fourth year must secure credit for eight one-month courses of 144 hours or their equivalent. Required courses fill seven months' time, leaving one month free for elective work. Students may anticipate certain of the required courses during the summer preceding the fourth year and thus gain more time for elective work in the fourth year. In the following statements whole courses have a value of 144 hours, half-courses of 72 hours, and quarter-courses of 36 hours.

Students who devote their spare time to intensive work in a defined field will be given advice and guidance by Tutors who are freely available for that purpose. In the Fourth Year, the Faculty encourages those men who have shown suitable qualities to devote their time largely to concentrated work in a single broad field. Not more than 15% of the class is given the privilege. Men who wish it, apply individually to the Administrative Board, stating in detail their plan of work, after securing the approval of the Tutor and the teacher under whose guidance the actual work will be done. Application for free election and tutorial work should be made late in the spring of the third year.

An opportunity for voluntary work is offered to second and third year students on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. It is believed that upper-classmen will welcome a chance to keep in touch with the most recent developments in the fundamental sciences; that an interest in certain fundamental subjects will have been aroused by their clinical work; or that they may feel the desire for additional training on some point. Students are not required or even asked to take this work: it is entirely a voluntary matter, and no credit will be given.

Special pamphlets are issued describing the opportunities for elective and voluntary work and outlining the conditions under which such work may be undertaken.

In the department of Anatomy, instruction is given in gross human Anatomy, Histology, Neurology, and Embryology. Opportunities are also afforded for advanced work and investigation in these subjects.

The department occupies the Morgan Anatomical Building, the dissecting rooms being in the wing designated B I, and the laboratories for Histology and Embryology in the wing B II. There are separate rooms for fourth year and graduate students and for various kinds of technical work. The class work is carried on by sections in unit rooms, designed to accommodate either twelve or twenty-four students. There is a large library which contains complete files of the most important anatomical and morphological journals, together with many standard works of reference, and in an adjoining room there is a collection of about fifteen thousand pamphlets. A card catalogue and a classified bibliography give ready access to the literature.

The Embryological Collection is a unique feature of the laboratory. It comprises about twenty-three hundred series of sections of carefully selected vertebrate embryos, and affords therefore opportunities for research in comparative embryology such as cannot be found elsewhere. The collection includes eighty series of sections of human embryos, several of which are of exceptional value, among them being two of the very youngest stages of man yet obtained. The collection of embryological models contains the standard series and many unique original models.

REQUIRED COURSES

ANATOMY A AND B. First Year.—The courses of the first year are intended to teach human anatomy, both gross and microscopic, together with the essentials of human embryology and neurology. Half of the time is devoted to work in the dissecting room, the other half to work in the histological and embryological laboratories. In the study of gross anatomy, students make a complete dissection of one half of the human body, and all of the class dissect the same part at the same time. Four men will be assigned to the same subject, and will work together during the course. The study of the skeleton is carried on with the dissection, and each student will be provided with a box of bones which may be kept throughout the course. There will be lectures or demonstrations which are arranged to correspond as closely as possible with the work in the dissecting room. These lectures not only will serve as a guide to the regular work in the dissecting room, but also will be used to emphasize those details of human anatomy which the student cannot easily study for himself in his own dissection. Special dissections made by prosectors from the second year class, frozen sections, and various anatomical specimens and preparations will be displayed each day to illustrate and supplement that part of the subject treated in the lecture, or about to be studied in the dissecting room. Students are urged to examine these specimens carefully, and to discuss them informally with the instructors. Students will be quizzed each week on their work in the laboratory by the instructors in charge of their section. Practical examinations only will be given in the first year.

The part of the course dealing with microscopic anatomy is designed to give the student a familiarity with the normal appearances of cells, tissues and organs. As much as is possible in a brief course, the development of tissues and organs is stressed. Opportunity is also given to some extent for the study of fresh tissues. The use of fresh tissues is intended to acquaint the student with the structure of living cells and with evidence of cellular functions. Demonstrations are given from time to time to present the range of histological technique.

The last five weeks of the course of microscopic anatomy are devoted to the study of the central nervous system. The student is given an opportunity to become familiar with the positions and relations of the principal nuclei and tracts of the nervous system by the study of gross specimens and of serial sections through the brain stem. Emphasis is laid on the anatomico-physiological point of view.

REQUIRED COURSES

PATHOLOGY A. Second Year.—The course in Pathology consists of laboratory work and lectures. The basis of the laboratory work is a systematic course in pathological histology. In connection with this there are demonstrations of fresh material and museum specimens and experiments on animals bearing on the subjects studied. For demonstrations, autopsy attendance, and experimental work the students are divided into small sections. The demonstrations and experimental work are given in connection with the subjects which are being studied, in rooms adjoining the main laboratory which are adequately provided with apparatus. Lectures are given three days in the week by Dr. WOLBACH and staff. The object of the lecture is to expand and coördinate the knowledge which the student obtains by the study of material and to introduce important recent advances not yet incorporated in text-books. During the entire period of the course groups of students are sent to the various hospitals to see and assist in postmortem examinations. The postmortem material of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Boston City Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Infants' Hospital, the Children's Hospital, the Boston Lying-In Hospital, the Huntington Hospital, the Palmer Memorial Hospital, the House of the Good Samaritan, and the Long Island Hospital is available for instruction. Each group prepares microscopical specimens of the tissues from each autopsy they attend, and immediately afterwards meets for a conference with one of the instructors, when the whole case is reviewed and discussed. At these conferences the clinical history of the case is read, and as far as possible the pathological findings are correlated with the clinical features. No attempt is made to separate the subject of Pathology into general pathology and pathological anatomy, but the subject is studied as a whole. The more important organs of the body are covered, towards the end of the course, with reference to their special pathology, particularly the blood, liver, spleen, kidneys, pancreas, and genitalia. In teaching, the student is taught methods of work, is given material, and directed, but he is taught to work independently. Tumors and other material coming from the surgical clinics are made full use of in the course. Conferences and recitations will occasionally be substituted for regular laboratory work.

Demonstrations of gross material are held each teaching day in the Warren Museum, which is now an integral part of the Department of Pathology. Special space has been provided for the use of second year students. The Museum is open in the evening and it is extensively utilized by students for purposes of reviews and conferences. Free access to a large collection of unmounted gross material is permitted at all times. Special collections are arranged by the Curator and are kept accessible to the students for long periods throughout the teaching course.

On Saturdays conferences and recitations are substituted for the regular laboratory work.

In the mornings of January Dr. TYZZER will give a course of lectures and laboratory exercises on animal parasites, particularly the protozoa and the infections produced by them.

Approximately fifty hours are given to lectures and laboratory work in neuropathology, certain exercises being interdigitated with the course in general pathology, and twelve consecutive exercises in the more special diseases of the nervous system are given in the spring. (See Neuropathology.)

REQUIRED COURSES

The instruction given by the Department of Medicine consists in lectures, recitations, amphitheatre clinics, practical work in the out-patient departments and wards of the hospitals, and a course in clinical pathology which is given at the Harvard Medical School in the laboratory of the Department. The time given to the Department of Medicine in the medical curriculum comes in the second half of the second year and throughout the third and fourth years.

Second Year. — During the second half of the second year, instruction in the methods of history taking, physical examination, and laboratory technique is given. Also there are a few lectures and demonstrations introductory to internal medicine.

Third Year. — Throughout the third year the subjects of internal medicine are covered in exercises for the whole class by clinics or lectures which are given at the various hospitals or at the Harvard Medical School. For their practical work the students throughout this year are divided into small groups and work in the wards or out-patient departments of the four larger hospitals connected with the Medical School on problems of internal medicine. The individual student spends his entire time in one hospital, and in a small group, under the direct supervision of instructors especially assigned for this work.

Fourth Year. — In this year the students serve as clinical clerks in the wards of a general hospital for two or three months, part of which time is devoted to acting as assistants to the clinic in the out-patient departments. Each student is expected to work up some problem to present for discussion during these months. In this year the students who elect three months of medicine will have special instruction at a hospital exclusively for tuberculous patients.

VOLUNTARY AND ELECTIVE COURSES

Numerous opportunities, in the form of voluntary courses, are offered throughout the academic year to students of the second, third, and fourth year classes. These courses vary in number and in the subjects covered from year to year.

In addition to the required courses for fourth year students the department offers several opportunities for specially qualified students to take advanced courses and carry on research problems in internal medicine.

FACILITIES FOR INSTRUCTION

The instruction is given at the Harvard Medical School, the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Boston City Hospital, the Beth Israel Hospital and several other hospitals devoted to special purposes. In these hospitals abundant and varied clinical material is available for the conduct of the numerous exercises.

NEUROLOGY

REQUIRED COURSES

Second Year. — Clinical lectures are given at the Massachusetts General Hospital to the entire class. The object of the course is to give the student a general knowledge of the principles of diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the nervous system as a preparation for later work.

Third Year. — Clinical lectures are given during January of the third year, at the Massachusetts General Hospital. The members of the class are also required to work in the neurological service at the M.G.H. or B.C.H. in sections during the year. For this work the more didactic teaching of the second year serves as a necessary preparation. The work is practical in character and serves to bring the student into immediate contact with patients.

NEUROPATHOLOGY

REQUIRED COURSE

NEUROPATHOLOGY A. Second Year. — The course consists of lectures, laboratory work, and demonstrations, amounting to forty-five hours. The exercises are appropriately integrated with the clinical lectures in Neurology. The lectures introduce conceptions of value for the third year courses in neurology and psychiatry and for the neurological parts of courses in internal medicine and in surgery. The histopathological part of the laboratory work deals with the inflammatory reactions, the classical degenerations, etc. Gross pathological specimens are also shown and physiological demonstrations are given to illustrate living pathological processes.

PSYCHIATRY

REQUIRED COURSES

First Year. — Medical Psychology. Physiology deals with the reactions of the various organs and systems; psychology deals with the reactions of the individual to the environment. In this course on medical psychology the student will have an opportunity of studying briefly the emotional reactions, their modification by experience, the rôle played in these reactions by the various systems; the ability to receive, elaborate, store, and reactivate impressions; variations in constitutional endowment; special lines of weakness; the importance of personal factors in medicine in general, and especially in relation to nervous and mental disorders.

Third Year. — During the second half-year clinical lectures will be given once a week at the Psychopathic Hospital. An endeavor will be made to present examples of the most important varieties of mental disorder, with special emphasis on the mild and incipient cases which are frequently treated by the general practitioner. More attention will be given to the dynamic analysis and the practical problems of the individual case than to questions of formal classification. Some examples of nervous and mental disorders of childhood will be presented.

For bed-side work the class is divided into small sections, and each student will be given opportunity for personally studying individual cases.

FIRST YEAR

The Howe Laboratory of Ophthalmology was founded in 1927 by the late Dr. Lucien Howe. A sum of money equal to that given by Dr. Howe was donated by the Rockefeller Foundation. Laboratory space was provided by the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. Dr. Howe was the first director of the laboratory, but the laboratory was not definitely organized until August 1, 1931.

The purpose of the laboratory is to advance ophthalmology, and its researches will not be restricted to any particular phase of this science. Advantage will be taken of the rich clinical material of the Infirmary. While the laboratory is purely an institution for research, the services of the various members of the staff are available for teaching in the Harvard Medical School and for assistance in the clinical work of the Infirmary.

REQUIRED COURSES

Second Year.—Lectures are given at the end of the second year to familiarize the student with the study of children's diseases before he comes into contact with patients. In this series are discussed the physiology of nutrition and the principles of infant feeding, the anatomical and physiological differences between children and adults, a consideration of the normal growth and development of children and the physiology and pathology of extracellular body fluids.

Third Year.—1. Six whole class exercises are given during the first half-year, in which the more important aspects of the diseases of childhood are presented. Five whole class lectures, on special subjects, are assigned to pediatrics by the Department of Internal Medicine. Five whole class lectures in preventable diseases are conducted in collaboration with the Department of Preventive Medicine. Each section, during its assignment to the Children's Hospital for thirty-two days, receives correlated instruction in pediatrics, surgery, orthopaedic surgery, etc.

2. Section teaching: The students are assigned to instructors for eleven periods (three hours each); they are brought into intimate contact with patients in the out-patient department. Conference hours are held for each section in which certain aspects of pediatrics are illustrated by didactic talks, by demonstration and by quizzes on assigned reading. Five clinics are held at which the students present cases for discussion before the entire section. Five afternoon exercises during each period are devoted to the study of communicable diseases. An elective course consisting of two clinics of two hours each is offered to the students of each section at the Haynes Memorial Hospital for Contagious Diseases.

Fourth Year.—The fourth year work consists of instruction at the Children's Hospital, the Infants' Hospital, and at the Children's Department of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Students are divided into groups and assigned for one month to one of the hospitals. They act as clinical clerks.

One afternoon each week is spent in a Child Hygiene Station for instruction in infant feeding and preventive pediatrics. Instruction in the diseases of the newly born is given at the Boston Lying-in Hospital two afternoons a week to the students during their obstetrical service.

REQUIRED COURSES

Third Year.—Instruction is given by lectures, conferences, and clinical teaching. Students are required to take charge, before graduation, of at least twelve cases of labor, under supervision and instruction, to care for their patients during convalescence, and to make full written reports of the cases.

Fourth Year.—The fourth year course will occupy the student's entire time for one month. It will be given at the Boston Lying-in Hospital and at the Medical School. During half of the course the student will lodge at the hospital, and devote his time chiefly to attendance on cases in the out-patient clinic. In the course of his work he will be called on to assist at operations in the out-patient department, and will be expected, when his other duties permit, to make ward visits with the physician on duty in the house. In the other half of the course he will conduct the convalescence of the cases delivered by him during his resident service, and make daily ward visits at which clinical instruction will be given in the general management of normal and abnormal labor, in the study of the puerperal convalescence, and in the care of the young infant. Detailed written reports of the out-patient cases attended will be required. His clinical work will be done under the supervision of the department and of the hospital staff on duty, and he will receive careful instruction in the proper methods of delivery and the care of the convalescence. An opportunity will be given each student to study the care of pregnancy in the Pregnancy Clinic, where instruction in pelvimetry and in diagnosis of presentation and position by external examination will be given. Case teaching on five afternoons during the week will be an important feature of the course. A written report on one of the complications of pregnancy will be required of each student. The student will also be given at the Medical School a course of demonstrations in operative obstetrics during the first week of each course, and each student will have an opportunity to perform the different operations on the manikin.
